

PURPOSE HUB LIFE COACHING WORKSHOP

Letting Go of past regrets ...

A person with regrets sounds like this:

I wish I had ...

I wish I did not ...

I regret ever ...

That was a bad choice ...

I have made the worst decision one could possibly make ...

It is too late ...

I should never have ...

If only I could turn back the clock ...

We are free to make our own choices, but we are not free to choose the consequences. We have all made decision we would rather forget, but sometimes we struggle to forget them or to let go as the consequences keep piling up.

Whether you have made the worst decision ever, chosen second best, crossed a moral boundary, made a bad financial decision, hurt others etc. Know today there is hope!

Come join Purpose Hub Life Coaching and get rid of all the small foxes that spoil the vineyards (Song of Solomon 2:15). Do not continue to be defined by your bad decisions. Look beyond them to God, Who can take what you give Him and turn it into something productive and eternal.

The fact that you are alive is proof that there are still some wise decisions you can make!
